SAMUEL HAFTER, one of the oldes citizens of Danville, died Tuesday night of inflamation of the stomach. He leaves a widow and two grown children.

FOREST DALZELL and Miss Pearl Rafferty of Carlisle were married at the Gibson House, Cincinnati. They were accompanied by Miss Bessie Dalzell and Miss Clara Rafferty, also of Carlisle.

THERE was another large crowd in attendance at the Christian Church last night, with two additions. Services to night at 7.30. Theme, "The Royal Invitation." No services on Saturday night.

JAMES LEAKE, a C. and O. Fireman on engine No. 72, had his right arm so badly scalded at Huntington Monday that he will be laid up for several weeks. He was endeavoring to adjust a defective injection valve when the accident occurred.

IT was fortunate for the prize fighters in Florida that Governor Mitchell's picture was not printed in The Commercial Gazette until after the courts enjoined him from interference. It of itself would have been enough to stop anything—even a street car.

DID YOU LOSE?

Of Course You Didn't—How the Returns Were Received in Maysville.

The Opera house was well filled yesterday afternoon by the sporting inclined men of the city who were more or less interested in the outcome of the Corbett-Mitchell fight.

As announced in these columns the returns were received at this place and not an item of interest took place about the ring but what was received at the Opera house within twenty minutes after it had happened.

The crowd was eager and anxious to hear all the news of the great fight and many enthusiasts of both Corbett and Mitchell were on hand. Some betting was done, but only on the number of rounds that the fight would be finished in, as all agreed that the fight would terminate in favor of Corbett.

After the first round had been received many bets were made as to the number of rounds as it seemed from this that the fight would be a long and hard fought one.

Ex-Chief Fitzgerald read the returns as they were received much to the satisfaction of the crowd present.

While the start was a little slow, after the first one had been received it was not long before they came pretty fast and in the half hour that the telegrams were received over nineteen were read. Even some of the big bets made at the ring side were reported.

Excellent music was added to the monotony of the occasion before the returns began coming in by a colored orchestra, which was secured for the occasion.

Very little money was lost by the sports of this city as they all wanted the Corbett end of it and in that respect they could find no takers.

There is no mistake about it, the fight was short and sweet and those who did have money up got quick action for it.

IRONTON has just organized a Good Templar Lodge.

DR. J. T. STRODE will not resume practice, having retired professionally from this city.

THE Kentucky House of Representatives has passed the bill abolishing the Board of Equalization.

DR. SAMUEL WARDLE.

Brief Sketch of Cincinnati's Oldest and Most Honored Druggist.

Yesterday's LEDGER made brief mention of the death of Dr. Samuel Wardle. The following additional particulars are given by the local papers of Cincinnati.

Dr. Samuel Wardle, the oldest practicing dentist in Cincinnati, died at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home in Hartwell.

For two months past deceased has suffered greatly with catarrhal pneumonia, which was the cause of death.

Dr Wardle was born January 3d, 1822, at Leicestersbire, England.

He came to America at the age of 9 years, and settled with his parents at Philadelphia.

As soon as he had arrived at majority he entered the study of dentistry at Philadelphia under the renowned Professor Elisha Neall.

Graduating in 1845, he at once established an office for himself in that city, where he continued to practice for four years, when he came to Cincinnati.

Immediately upon his arrival there he established a dental supply depot on Walnut street, near Sixth.

Failing to make the success he desired, he began the active practice of dentistry, and in which he has continued ever since.

For a score of years he has been located at 294 Race street, directly opposite the John Shillito Building, and was considered one of the foremost in his profession, and one of the most thorough dentists in this state.

Dr. Wardle was married in 1847 to Margaret Anna Little of Philadelphia, who survives her.

He leaves besides four children, Dr. Charles W. Wardle, a prominent dentist at Maysville, Ky.; Samuel H. Wardle of Evansville, Ind.; Harry and Miss Lily at home.

During the past eight years he has resided at Hartwell, his home on Sturgis avenue being considered one of the prettiest in the suburb.

Dr. Wardle entered the war as a private in Company H, 138th O. V. L., and was discharged therefrom at the close of the hundred-day service as First Lieutenant of his company.

He was a member of Robert L. McCook Post No 30., G. A. R., of Carthage; N. C. Harmony Lodge No. 3, F. and A. M.; Cincinnati Commandery K. T.; Magnolia Lodge, I. O. O. F., and Wildey Encampment No. 1, I. O. O. F.

According to his expressed desire, made a few days ago, the funeral services will be conducted by the Oddfellows, with the Masonic Fraternity as escort.

He was a member of the Hartwell Methodist Church, at which edifice the funeral will be held.

The burial will take place at Spring Grove at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

☞ If you leave friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

MISS MATTIE L. OLDHAM is visiting her uncle, H. R. Carroll, at Manchester.

Dear News: "Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. F. Robyns, and other relatives at Maysville."

REV. F. M. TINDER, Pastor of the Christian Church at Maysliek, was a welcome visitor to our city yesterday.

MISSES HATTIE and ANNIE HILLIS, the accomplished daughters of Hon. A. G. Hillis of Lewis county, are the pleasant guests of George Sutton and family at Aberdeen.

CHENOWETH'S Dentine cleanses and beautifies the teeth. Try it.

A LITTLE child was fatally lacerated by a vicious boar in Louisville yesterday. The people of these United States are being lacerated every day by the biggest bore on earth—G. Cleveland.

THE persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire of McKay, O., says: "La grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children, when troubled with colds or croup." Twenty-five and fifty cent bottles for sale by John J. Reynolds, Druggist.

Merchants,

Attention!

Please read THE LEDGER'S proposition, under head of "Where to De.l," to be found in another column, and then have your name pl.ce.l on the list.

Where to Inquire.

Persons desirious of joining the A. P. A., or those interested in the purposes of the Order, will please address Box 483, Maysville, Ky.

Had His Nerve With Him.

Officer W. B. Dawson yesterday arrested Hervey Young for breaking into the house of M. Breckinridge, colored, and stealing besides a lot of clothing, $25 in money.

The robbery took place yesterday afternoon while the family were away from the house.

Young will be given a hearing this afternoon in the Police Court.

Goodbye, Mr. Rundell!

The Aberdeen Journal says Aberdeen will lose a good citizen next week in the person of Q. C. Rundell, the popular miller at the Ohio Valley Mills, who on account of his health will leave their midst, returning with his interesting family to his former home—Franklin, Ind. During his stay among us for the past year, Mr. Rundell has made many friends who will regret to lose him.

Revival Services.

The revival in East Maysville is growing more and more interesting. There were six at the altar last evening. Two conversions and three additions.

The sweet tones of the cornet, mingling with those of the organ skillfully used by Miss Bertha Daulton, have good effect on the audience.

The text last evening was: "What Think Ye of Christ."

Don't forget children's meeting Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Come this evening at 6.30.

C. and O. Officials Meet.

Wednesday's C. and O. train No.—carried in addition to the regular coaches the private car of President M. E. Ingalls of the C. and O. road, who together with several of his chief men was bound to New York on business pertaining to the line.

The gentleman and his companions were apparently at leisure while at the stop here and paid but little attention to the town or the road. It could not be learned just who the parties were that accompanied him, but it was understood that they were some of the Eastern officials who have been consulting Mr. Ingalls with reference to business connected more particularly with their Eastern interests; hence the Eastern trip.

Caught at Last.

A Mr. Nichols, who lately jumped his board at Catlettsburg and went up into Ohio opposite Huntington, was arrested on the steamer Enith at Catlettsburg the other day, while en route to Ironton on the track of a skiff thief.

Attention, Comrades.

Several in this city have received the following invitation from Feltis:

Dear Sir and Comrade: You are respectfully invited to attend an oyster supper and campfire at this place February 3d at 2 o'clock p. m. under the management of Croxton Post No. 9, G. A. R.

A. S. COLE, Post Commander.

Getting Back at Them.

"Mark my words. Just as soon as this bill is passed every loom in the country will be started, every furnace fire will be lighted and every instrument of production will be put in active operation, and there will be witnessed a revival of prosperity such as this country has never before seen. Give this country free wool, free ores, free coal and free raw material for the workingmen in industry, and we will take a front position in the markets of the world."—Extract from Congressman Springer's Speech on the Tariff.

The Bulletin should have added, "And the workingman who is now getting $2 50 per day for his work will then receive $1 25 per day, which no doubt will be enough to keep his wife and children from starving." WORKINGMAN.

Have You Ever Considered?

It is an admitted fact that during the recent flurry among financial affairs no agency done more potent work to maintain confidence among the people in the monied institutions than the county newspapers.

They all swore by their towns and by their banks—boosted them up as the safest in the land, managed by the most able financiers and equal to any emergencies.

In some towns that we know of had the local papers dropped a hint of even one line that things were not exactly safe, the e would have been such runs on the banks that would have thusted 'em into smithereens.

It's the local paper that keeps down excitement in perilous times, throws oil on the troubled waters, and makes all men better by its being published in the community. It deserves all the support good citizens can give it

REFORM THAT GALLS.

Free Coal and Free Sugar, But on Luxuries Tax.

Washington Post.—All the silver tongues that ever wagged, all the eloquence and epigram that ever sparkled, will not save the Wilson Tariff Bill so long as it contemplates free coal, free sugar and an income tax. Though the advocates of that bill be as Cicero and Demosthenes combined, though their voices be as lutes and their speech thrill with the sweetness of the dithyramb, they cannot beguile the Nation into accepting it. We may lull ourselves beneath the music, we may inhale the charm of rounded periods and feel the tremor of a great and passionate appeal, but, like Ulysses, the country will resist the siren song and sail away into the open sea.

This is the age of reason and common sense. Tariffs are not made to humor dreams and stiffen theories. The purpose of taxation is to make enlightened Government possible. We want a Treasury to protect the commonwealth. We levy taxes to sustain the Treasury. There is but one summum bonum possible, and that is the creation of a fund by means that operate the minimum of hardship to the individual and the maximum of profit to the country. Free sugar and free coal at the cost of an income tax will not promote that end. Free coal means the paralysis of the railroad industry, the impoverishment of millions of honest laboring men, the depopulation of ten thousand towns and cities. Free sugar means the loss of $75,000,000 of revenue, collected at slight cost and at absolutely no inconvenience to the people, and the substitution of some other tax less profitable and more oppressive, provocative of fraud and fruitful of discontent. These are the vices of the Wilson Bill and these the threatening possibilities which we antagonize.

It is proper that the Democratic party should reform the Tariff. For that the people called them to power a year or more ago. To that they are pledged by every obligation that men and parties recognize. But it is not proper that in reforming the Tariff they should increase the burden of the taxpayer and constrict the liberty of the citizen. The lightest tax is that with which the individual does not come in contact. The heaviest is that which is gathered at his door. The tax collected at the Custom house is a theory. The tax collected from the person is a condition. We may argue good naturedly about an import levy. We groan under the domestic tithes. The Wilson Bill as it stands is a mistake. The American people will not approve a measure that takes the appraiser from the seaport and distributes him among them as an inquisitor, an informer and a spy.

"JUST LANDED."

The Little Tycoon.

Comic opera without a topical song or two would hardly be comic opera up to date, or rather up to the liking of the many people who are fond of that style of entertainment. Yielding to that plainly expressed general desire, Willard Spenser has written a catchy, topical song, which bears the taking title of "That's What I Think, Don't You?" As the name indicates, the theme of the song is rather elastic in character and admits of numerous and varied hits at the latest developements in politics, social and local doings, the fashions, the ladies, the dudes, and all of the many foibles of the day. It will be sung by the comedian during the second act of "The Little Tycoon" when that opera is done at the Opera house on the night of Tuesday January 30th.

"NECESSARIES OF LIFE."

An exchange certainly strikes the c in the following article on the "Necessaries of Life." It is to the point e that we cannot refrain from clippi whole article.

Here it is:

Says the innocent and childlike in his late message to Congress:

"If we were to add the people through Tariff Reform, one of the most obvious features should be a reduction in present Tariff charges upon the necessaries of life."

Now, let us see of just what these "necessaries of life" consist:

Diamonds under the McKinley Tariff paid a duty of 25 per cent.; under the Wilson Tariff they are let in for 10 per cent. Diamonds are a "necessary of life."

Opium under the McKinley Law paid a duty of $12 a pound; under the Wilson Bill it will pay $6. Hurrah for this necessary.

Perfumery — p-e-r-f-u-m-e-r-y — perfumery under the McKinley Law paid $3 per gallon and 50 per cent.; under the Wilson Law, to suit the New York and Boston dudes, it will pay $2 and 25 per cent. The poor, starving devil out of work will rejoice in the cheapening of this "necessary of life."

Champagne—all our poor laboring men drink champagne by the barrel—is greatly reduced, and also on fine cigars, another absolute "necessary of life." Rah for reform!

Porcelain—all poor people fairly revel in porcelain—is reduced from 60 per cent. to 33 per cent. God bless Tariff Reform.

Roofing slates—every poor man uses slate for his roof—reduced from 25 per cent. to 10 per cent. Again, God bless Tariff Reform that gives the poor man a reduction of 15 per cent. on his roofing slates.

The poor man who never sits down to a meal without figs, oranges, grapes, comfito sweetmeats of all kinds, will kick up his heels as high as the Washington Monument at the great reduction on these "necessities of life."

The poor man who dresses his wife and children in silk dresses, who buys the silk hosiery, who purchases the fine straw bonnets with ostrich feathers, can, under the Wilson Bill, effect a great saving. Another list of "necessaries of life."

Brandies, wines, absinthe, kirschwasser, arrack, ratafia, bay rum, ginger wine—all burning necessities of life—all used in endless profusion by the people—are greatly reduced. The common people are in it by the Wilson Bill.

Plushes and velvets go down the list, and the million laboring men in the country out of work will sing glad pæans of praise to the verdict.

Playing cards, of all other things most used by the poor man, are reduced from 50 cents per pack to 10 cents per pack. Again, praise the Lord.

Gloves—rich men's gloves—pay a duty of $2 per dozen; poor men's gloves will be let in for $3. This is the day of the poor man. One million out of work and their gloves only $1 per dozen higher than the rich man's. "Give God the glory, glory."

And pictures! Every poor man in the land has the walls of his humble home covered with paintings by Michael Angelo, Titian, Corregio, Rosa Bonheur, Murillo—and they are all placed on the free list, as against 15 per cent. under the damnable McKinley Bill. A $20,000 painting can now be purchased for $2,400, instead of $23,000, as under old Bill McKinley's abortion.

And many other things in proportion.

All hail the great reduction in the necessaries of life.

Let every farmer, mechanic and laborer in the land rejoice with exceeding great joy. The deliverance is at hand and the Wilson Bill is a Godsend.

The jubilee is with us.

All Along the Line

is heard praise of Dr. Hale's Household Ointment. Mrs. I. S. Jacobs of Farmington, Maine, writes that she suffered five years with varicose veins and two running sores on her leg, and was completely cured by its use. D. S. Filley, Salisbury, Vt., writes: "We cannot live without it; it relieves my sister of asthma at once; it cures a burn or hurt of any kind almost instantly." Under date of May 29, 1893, E. H. Simpson, Lovoy N.Y., writes: I used Hale's Ointment for rheumatism three years ago and have not been troubled since. It is the finest ointment in the world for general use; 25 & 50c per box. PUBLIC LEDGER CO.
THOMAS A. DAVIS.

Maysville, Ky., Jan. 1st, 1894.

CLEVELAND has now "consecrated" himself to the holy mission of putting Senator HILL in a cavity.

SEND WILLIS home! He is needed here as a security against the further dishonor and humiliation of the Republic abroad.

THE Cleveland Administration has increased the public debt $50,000,000 for the purpose of making war upon American workingmen.

LOUISIANA is not the sole victim of Democratic policy. The country is filled with men, women and children in the same sad plight.

BY an income tax the Bourbon Free-traders hope to be able to get rid of paying their share of the National debt which the rebellion necessitated.

AND so PECKHAM is not agreeable to HILL, either. How would MAYNARD suit him? To be sure, New York state has rejected Mr. MAYNARD by about 80,000 majority because he was caught rifling a mail pouch; still, a little slip of that kind does not detract from his greatness in HILL'S estimation. If CLEVELAND wants to placate HILL let him send in the name of MAYNARD when PECKHAM is rejected.

EVERY President has had a fight with the Senate over the question of patronage. In the struggle now going on, however, something besides the spoils is at issue. No other President ever trampled upon the functions of the Senate as CLEVELAND did when he appointed a diplomatic agent, a "paramount commissioner," without consulting that body and pursued a policy of mystification in regard to a subject in which Congress had an equal interest and equal rights with the Executive.

THE new Democratic revenue bill proposes taxing spirits, playing cards and incomes. It ought to prove a very popular measure with all good people everywhere.—Evening Bulletin.

You don't say so!

And will you please tell us why "the new Democratic revenue bill" doesn't tax beer and tobacco?

And, again, do you know that "the new Democratic revenue bill" taxes playing cards only ten cents a pack, while the McKinley Bill taxes them fifty cents a pack?

And do you know that the Tariff is such a tax that playing cards, taxed by the McKinley Bill at fifty cents a pack, can be bought for fifteen cents a pack—only five cents less than the Tariff?

And—or—well, do you know anything at all about the Tariff question?

DEMOCRATIC "FINANCING."

ANOTHER suit for damages went against the C. and O. at Covington. B. H. Brinkers, whose property lies adjoining the company's tracks, sued for $2,500 damages from the jarring of his house by passing trains. The jury gave him a verdict for $700. This is the second case decided against the company in the past few days.

In Hard Luck.

Pineville, the boom town of Southeastern Kentucky, is in a hard row of stumps. While it is by reason of limited inhabitants but a sixth class city by a ruling of the Legislature, prompted doubtless by the great pretensions made the public it was listed a fourth class, and now has to be governed as such, while the citizens are kicking wildly at the situation.

Ingalls For President.

Major Bigstaff, a veteran of Newport, has the honor of being the first to name President M. E. Ingalls of the C. and O. Road, as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency in '96. The Major made the assertion Saturday last to a representative of The Cincinnati Tribune, and he advanced some very strong and perfectly feasible reasons why such should be the case.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 6th, 1893.—The Stockton Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn.—Gentlemen: It gives me exceeding pleasure to speak of your Antikamnia as I consider it something wonderful in the way of medicine. My old servant Albert, who is 79 years old, was very sick with pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble and dropsy. I called in my family physician and gave him every attention, but the doctor finally told me there was no hope, and the only thing that could be done was to make him comfortable until the end. At this point I decided to give him Stockton's Antikamnia, as it seemed to be performing almost miracles for others. It was given in regular doses every three hours and the fever began to decrease from the first dose, and a decided improvement was noticed the first day. In three days he was sitting up and in a week he was back at his work as usual, and is regaining his strength very fast. I conscientiously believe it saved the old man's life. Respectfully yours, FRANK SEABORNE,

THE FIGHT.

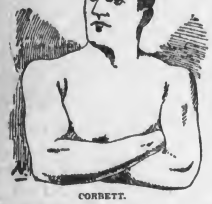
Charley Mitchell Meets His Defeat in Three Rounds.

He Was Knocked Down and Counted Out —The Englishman Made a Game Stand, But He Was Only a Plaything For the Champion.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 26.—A drizzling, disagreeable rain fell for several hours Thursday morning, but by 11 o'clock the clouds began to clear away, and with the slacking up of the moisture the streets filled with eager crowds.

Strangers arrived in great numbers on every train, and hustling for admission tickets and transportation to the arena, which is about a mile and a half out, kept up with ever increasing vigor.



CORBETT.

A force of workmen were busy all morning getting the ringside ready.

The Ocala Rifles still remain in town, and the club graciously offered to admit the militiamen as individuals at the reduced rate of $10 per head.

At 10:45 Corbett arrived from Mayport accompanied by Mrs. Corbett, Delaney and Johnny Ward.

Both fighters expressed themselves Thursday morning as confident. Mitchell saying that he did not think he would win, but he knew he would.

At 1 p. m. 1,000 sports were on the scene of the approaching conflict, having made the journey to the fair grounds in street cars, carriages and afoot.

Neither of the principals had yet arrived, but the managers did not entertain the slightest fear of interference by the authorities.

Corbett was a hot favorite, but by this time the betting had practically been brought to a close. No military men had put in an appearance, notwithstanding the cut rates offered, but a large force of city police were on hand.

The arrangements were positively the worst ever seen at any fight, and to add to the general dissatisfaction, the club at the last moment "shook down" the visiting reporters for $30 a seat. The local papers and friends of the club were given all the complimentary tickets they asked for.

The club was generally condemned by the business men, who realize that it will reflect badly on the city. When the arena was reached there was more indignation than ever.

The arena was not finished, and for two hours the crowd had to stand out in the rain waiting for the carpenters to nail up the seats.

The so-called box seats, which sold for $35 were rough benches with no semblance of an inclosure.

When the doors of the arena were thrown open at about 12 o'clock the men were still at work nailing seats and stretching the rope around the ring.

MITCHELL.

To make it worse, the club's members passed in their friends without tickets and made no secret of their conduct.

If the club ever gives another contest it will not get a corporal's guard from the north.

The ring itself was the only thing that showed the marks of a mechanic's work. It is made of planed pine, the floor of the ring resting about three feet from the floor proper. It is the regulation 24-foot ring, with eight padded posts and three strands of one-inch rope through each post.

Three feet from the ring proper was another ring of barbed wire to keep out the crowd. The articles of agreement called for a padded floor, but there were no indications of it unless it might be the rosin that was sprinkled over it. Altogether the arrangements were wretched.

At 10 o'clock B. F. Rieke, on behalf of the club, went to the National Bank of Jacksonville in company with Honest John Kelley and converted the certified check in twenty $1,000 bills.

About 1:30 one of the spectators with a strong western accent arose in his place and shouted that a gentleman wanted to bet $5,000 of Cattle against $500 that Corbett would win.

Instantly some one shouted from the other side of the ring: "Bring in your cattle!" There was a shout of laughter, and the first speaker subsided.

At 2:00 p. m. a large squad of militiamen were seen outside the gate, but their intentions were evidently not to fight.

At 2:04 Corbett arrived and the spectators rose as one man and greeted him with tumultuous applause as he stepped on the platform and shook hands with Billy Madden.

At 2:10 Mitchell arrived. His reception was almost equal to Corbett's. He smiled as he entered the ring and eyed his opponent curiously.

Mitchell's seconds were Jim Hall, Pony Moore, Tom Allen and Steve O'Donnell; timekeeper, Bat Masterson. Corbett's seconds were John Donaldson, Billy Delaney, Jack Dempsey and William McMillan; timekeeper for Corbett, Ted Foley. Snapper Garrison keeps time for the club. Referee Kelly and chief of police examined the gloves.

At 2:20 p. m. the men were called to the center, and instructed as to the rules governing the contest.

The fight began at 2:23.

Mitchell lands hard on the ribs, and as Mitchell came in Jim caught him on the head, staggering him. Corbett uppercuts Mitchell again, and lands with right on Charley's ribs. Mitchell reaching Corbett's chin a sharp rally, with Corbett having all the best of it. Mitchell got in twice on Corbett's neck. Corbett knocks him down twice.

Corbett floored his man again and knocked him down once more as he essayed to rise. The gong saved Mitchell.

Third Round—Mitchell rather groggy. Corbett rushed at him and swung his right and left, landing heavily on Mitchell's neck. Charley went down. He took the full time to rise and then Corbett rushed at him like a tiger. Mitchell clinched, and Corbett threw him off and floored him with a stiff facer. Again he took all the time to rise, and when he advanced toward Corbett the latter swung his right with deadly effect on Charley's nose. Mitchell reeled and fell on his face, helpless. The referee counted 10, and Mitchell was knocked out.

The referee counted 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9—Mitchell is knocked out. The referee declared Corbett winner of the match and champion of the world. Mitchell's face was covered with blood. He was carried to his corner in a helpless condition.

Time of fight, nine minutes.

It was all Corbett's battle, though Mitchell made a show in the first round.

The men did not shake hands at the beginning of the fight. The referee called upon them to do so, but neither responded.

Ed Smith, of Denver, Col., immediately challenged the winner to fight for $10,000 a side.

Thursday's battle was for a purse of $20,000 offered by the Duval Athletic club, of Jacksonville, of which Harry Mason is president, and J. E. T. Bowden, general manager. The club also paid the two pugilists $2,500 each for training expenses, and erected in East Jacksonville, a building in which to "pull off" the fight, the cost of which, including the site privilege, etc., was nearly $4,000.

Traveling and office expenses, together with attorney's fees and numerous other items of various kinds, have brought the total up in which to fully $40,000. The arena was arranged to seat just 13,000 people, but the firm attitude of the governor of Florida against the fight from the very beginning operated disastrously upon the sale of boxes and seats.

A DESERTED GIRL.

Goes Crazy at Charleston, W. Va.—Her Sad Story.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 25.—The crazy girl picked up on the street here two weeks ago, unable to tell her name, has turned out to be Miss Otto Jackson, nee Mamie Attie, of Richmond, Ind. A year ago Jackson married Miss Attie, took here to Meadow Creek, this state, and there deserted her. He went to Cincinnati, keeping a bar there. The wife, alone, moneyless and friendless, went from place to place, barely keeping alive, until she got money to come here, where she became a lunatic. In August, her family hearing she had been deserted, sent photographs to this place, and by these she was identified. Her brother was wired to come on Wednesday. Her father is a prominent business man of Richmond. The girl is 21 years old and pretty.

A Child Terribly Burned.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 25.—Roy Lindsey aged 4, met with a terrible accident Thursday morning. The child was playing around the kitchen stove when he espied a five-gallon can filled with coal oil. He pushed the can up against the stove, and a few minutes later the fluid exploded with terrific effect. The child was badly burned. The building caught afire, but the flames were speedily extinguished.

Talmage Wanted Abroad.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—At a meeting in City Temple, Thursday morning, Dr. Parker spoke in a eulogistic manner of Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Parker said that the Christian public throughout the world ought to insist upon the withdrawal of Mr. Talmage's resignation as pastor of the Brooklyn tabernacle. He thought that should he decide to leave America he should come to London.

A New Oil Field.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Three hunters who were poking around a stump on the Baker farm for a fox hole, lighted a match, when a great volume of flame shot up into the air. It was discovered that a large flow of oil issued from the ground at the spot. People are flocking here from all directions.

CARLISLE

On the Bonds, the Seigniorage and the Deficit.

He Appears Before the House Judiciary Committee.

Certificates Against Seigniorage Impossible, as Bullion Could Not Be Coined—The Issuance of Bonds the Only Remedy, Says the Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Mr. Carlisle's appearance before the house judiciary committee Thursday resulted in some interesting statements and admissions by the secretary.

The finley resolution declaring that the secretary of the treasury had no authority to use any portion of the proceeds from the sale of bonds for other purposes than the redemption of United States notes was the pending proposition. Secretary Carlisle made no attempt at speech making, nor did he confine himself to any particular line of argument longer than necessary to answer questions.

The talk between the secretary and the members of the committee, which developed Mr. Carlisle's defense or reasons for selling bonds, drifted into the silver question on an inquiry as to the secretary's views on seigniorage. There has been an earnest effort on the part of many democratic congressmen to procure the issue of certificates against the seigniorage which it has been calculated will amount to $55,000,000 when the bullion now on hand is coined. Throughout the country the secretary's bond policy has been criticized, and the argument was used that he had no right to resort to a bond sale while he had at his command this fifty-odd millions of seigniorage.

Mr. Carlisle's reply can be taken as the position of the administration on this subject and settles at once and for all the issue which has been raised so often.

"If I issue certificates against seigniorage so-called," said the secretary, "I must have dollars in silver coin with which to redeem those certificates. I can not get these dollars unless I coin bullion on hand, and I can not coin bullion on hand in less than three years."

Such a clear statement as this of the requirements for an issue of certificates against an imaginary profit on silver seemed to bring conviction to members of the judiciary committee, as it revealed to them the absurdity of the contention of those who have been demanding the coinage of notes which would have nothing back of them, and which could not be redeemed with dollars which would have no other existence than the declaration printed on the face of the bills.

In regard to the bond sale, Mr. Carlisle stated that he had but recently adopted the idea that the secretary of the treasury had this authority, but he had waited until the last possible moment for congress to take some action for the relief of the treasury. The only mistake he could now see that he had made was in waiting so long.

He said the necessity for a sale of bonds was imperative, as the deficiency was increasing at an alarming rate, and that $80,000,000, if not more, would be the amount of the shortage at the end of the present fiscal year unless congress took immediate action. Questioned as to his opinion of the right of the secretary to continue the sale of bonds, Mr. Carlisle frankly answered that there was no limit under existing law upon his powers in this direction.

The most significant part of Mr. Carlisle's testimony was that in relation to his right to use money obtained from the sale of bonds for current expenses of the government. He said to the committee that if congress should make an appropriation for any purpose "out of moneys not otherwise appropriated," and if the only available asset at his command was money received from the sale of government securities, he would be compelled to use that money and he would feel himself perfectly justified in doing so.

The secretary gave the committee figures to show that what was known as the "reserve," for which $65,000,000 of bonds had been sold, had all been exhausted by the redemption of United States notes.

ALTGELD AGAIN.

He Wants to Get Even With Newspaper Men, So Will Let an Innocent Man Hang.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 26.—Gov. Altgeld declines to interfere in the case of George H. Painter, who killed Alice Martin in Chicago two years ago. Painter will hang Friday morning at 7 o'clock at the Cook county jail. The action is a surprise, as it was thought that the strong pressure brought to bear on the governor by all newspapers and many prominent citizens of Chicago would at least get the sentence commuted to life in the penitentiary. Painter has been granted a stay twice since he was sentenced.

The governor feels sore over the way newspapers treated him in not pardoning the anarchists and takes this opportunity of showing them that he is running the office, although there is very little doubt expressed since late facts have come to light but Painter is an innocent man.

Air Brakes on Street Cars.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 26.—An air brake test has been in progress on the Avondale electric line for some time. Another trial will probably be made Friday. The city electrician has been present at most of the trials, and says that the air brakes work perfectly on the heavy motor cars. A car can be stopped suddenly and surely on the steepest grade without any trouble whatever.

Timbuctoo Has Fallen.

PARIS, Jan. 26.—A dispatch to the Journal des Debats, from St. Louis, Senegal, states that a French military column has occupied the city of Timbuctoo. The French force, it adds, occupied the city without resistance.

NOVEL CONTEST.

A Race to Determine Whether an American or British Line Gets the Contract to Carry the Mail.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—An interesting contest to score a point in the controversy about carrying the English and American mails was begun in this port, Thursday, between the Majestic, of the White Star lines, and the New York, of the American line. Each captain will do his utmost to land his mail matter in London ahead of his rival. A victory of a few hour's time will count for much in the investigation now in progress in the British parliament to determine whether the American line shall be given the contract for carrying the English mails. It already has the American contract.

Both steamers started shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday morning. The Majestic carried seventy-eight bags of letters and ninety-one bags of newspapers.

The New York carried 183 bags of letters and 446 bags of newspapers. A small part of this consisted of the bags originally sent out on the Normannia for Mediterranean ports.

The New York sails for Southampton, where she lands her mails. The mail from the Majestic will be taken off at Queenstown. The winter course is 2,890 miles to the latter port and about 3,100 miles to Southampton. There will probably not be more than three hours' difference in the arrival of the mail at London.

The vessels left their docks simultaneously and started down stream abreast, the decks of each crowded with passengers. They seemed to think the race had already begun, and so it seemed to the people on shore. The steamships ran along nose and nose for some time, and were then lost in the fog. They crossed the Sandy Hook bar neck and neck.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE.

Its Affairs in a Bad Way—Talmage Will Write and Lecture.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The affairs of the Brooklyn tabernacle are greatly complicated and the reported shortage of $40,000 in the accounts of John Woods, the ex-treasurer of the corporation, has not served to reassure the members of the church that all is right. Mr. Wood is declared by Dr. Talmage to be entirely innocent of the charge of embezzlement, but the report of the trustees shows an apparent shortage of more than $40,000, and Wood has been called upon for an explanation.

It was rumored in Brooklyn Thursday that the charges against the extreasurer were trumped up by the trustees, several of whom are real estate dealers, to depreciate the value of the tabernacle property and enable them to buy it at a sacrifice. Leonard Moody, the most active member of the board of trustees, indignantly denied this story.

Dr. Talmage, in discussing the situation, said that his resignation as pastor of the tabernacle did not imply that he would leave Brooklyn. He said he would continue to make his residence in the city of churches and would operate from there, permitting the newspapers and occasionally delivering a series of lectures in other cities.

Unusual Action in a Murder Case.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 26.—Thursday morning Judge Maxwell, of the Harrison county criminal court, released on bail Henry Wetzel indicted for murder in the first degree, in killing Richard Sprouse last summer. The accused has been in the Charlesburg jail since, and was in a dying condition from confinement and worry. It is reported that the state has a weak case, Sprouse being a member of a party of roughs, who waylaid Wetzel and endeavored to beat him to death. The case will probably come to trial and should Wetzel recover, which is doubtful.

The Corbett-Jackson Match.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Harry Glueckauf, private secretary to Parson Davies, Thursday placed $1,000 in the hands of Will J. Davis, manager of the Haymarket theater, in behalf of Peter Jackson, to defend his challenge for a fight with Corbett. This makes the second $1,000 Jackson has placed in Davis' hands. Will J. Davis, manager of the Haymarket theater, Thursday announces that he has received $2,000 from James J. Corbett for his match with Peter Jackson.

He Wanted a Toddy.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Alderman James Mulvahill, of the Seventeenth ward, entered a saloon on North Sangamon street, Thursday night, and invited several of those present to the bar. Michael Fuller, a hanger on, became insulted because he was not asked to drink, and pulling a revolver, fired two shots, one of which took egeet in the alderman's face. He was removed to the hospital. The wound is not necessarily fatal. Fuller was arrested.

Unusual Death.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Jan. 26.—The death of Will Wisenbaker Monday evening at Lake Park was one of the strangest that has occurred in this section. He went out to a butcher pen to watch the butcher kill a cow. The butcher used a large revolver in killing beeves, and just as he fired the first shot, at the cow young Wisenbaker fell to the ground and died. His death is thought to have been caused by heart disease.

To Prison for Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Gov. Markham has commuted to imprisonment for life the death sentence of John McNulty, who at the age of 19 was placed on trial for a murder committed during a saloon brawl. The Daughters of the Good Shepherd and other Catholic organizations interceded. Six times the day for his death has been fixed, and five times the gallows erected.

Gen. John McNeil's Claim.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 26.—Gen. John McNulta, ex-president of the Corn Belt bank, of this city, made a stir in financial circles, Thursday, by bringing suit against the bank for $5,000, which he claims due him as commission on $150,000 of stock, which the bank did not issue according to agreement.

WELL PLEASED.

The Emperor's Reconciliation With Prince Bismarck.

As Now Planned Bismarck Will Spend One Day in Berlin.

The Kaiser Can Not Meet Him at the Depot, But He Will Accompany Him Thither on His Return—Greetings From America.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—From all parts of the empire comes reports of the satisfactory effect produced in the reconciliation of the emperor and Prince Bismarck. All of the kings and princes of the different federal states have telegraphed to the emperor congratulating him, and expressing pleasure that the sovereign and ex-chancellor have reconciled. These demonstrations of pleasure have not been confined to the above, for dispatches have been received from the United States congratulating the emperor on the generous initiative.

There is a rumor in circulation that one of the first results will be the return to public life of Count Herbert Bismarck. It is understood that he is to be offered an ambassadorship. A desire is expressed that Count Caprivi and Bismarck should enter into closer relations and that the ex-chancellor will have a conference with his successor on the situation. It is felt that Prince Bismarck's advice would be of the utmost value. Probably with a view to bringing about the proposed conference a number of leading members of the Agrarian party have left for Friedersbruhe and intend to lay their views before the ex-chancellor and invoke his assistance in getting them adopted. The police are taking precautions to prevent anything in the shape of a counter demonstration on Prince Bismarck's arrival. They fear that the socialists and anarchists may seek to give expression to their dislike of the ex-chancellor.

It was learned Thursday evening that Emperor William will not go to the railway station, as was expected, to meet Prince Bismarck. He is to meet the king of Saxony at 12:25 at the Anhalt station, and would not have time to reach the latter station before the arrival of the prince's train.

The general public will not be admitted to the Hannoverian railroad station upon the arrival there, at noon Friday, of Prince Bismarck. The prince will remain in Berlin but one day.

THE RANGE EXPLODED

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 26.—A boiler attached to a range in the kitchen of Conductor William R. Lewis' house exploded Thursday morning, totally wrecking the range and the rear end of the kitchen.

Kate Duntley, a domestic, was preparing breakfast at the time. She was blown across the room and when picked up by members of the family it was discovered that she was horribly burned about the face, arms and hands. Her injuries are not considered fatal.

A Female Witnesses the Fight.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 26.—J. S. Deshane, a Kansas City saloon-keeper, and his wife witnessed the fight between Corbett and Mitchell Thursday. The woman was in male attire. Her husband explained that his wife was a great admirer of Corbett, and wanted to see the contest, and he could see no objection to it so long as she was in her husband's company.

Gov. McKinley's Marriage Anniversary.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26.—Thursday was the twenty-third anniversary of the wedding of Gov. McKinley. There was no celebration of the event of a general nature, but there were numerous congratulations, and Thursday night the office force and their wives repaired to the governor's apartments at the Nell and spent a pleasant evening.

There Was No Wedding.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan 26.—Phil Baker, with a license, in his best clothes and with a ring, went to the residence of Margaret Doud, daughter of the proprietors of the Farmers' hotel, to wed her Thursday afternoon as agreed. She coolly said she had changed her mind, and there was no wedding.

A Tramp With Smallpox.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 26.—Joseph Evans, a tramp, arrived from Dayton two days ago and was taken to the pest house with a case of smallpox. He came from Chicago, and has been here three days in the hospital. The board of public affairs has ordered all school children and shop hands vaccinated, and has quarantined the hospital

Vaillant Will Die.

PARIS, Jan. 26.—Thursday was the day set for the hearing of the appeal of August Vaillant, from the sentence of death passed upon him for throwing the bomb in the chamber of deputies. Vaillant must die. The court of cassation, which heard the case, decided that there were no grounds upon which to base an appeal, and it was therefore rejected.

A Chicago Theater Sold.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—The sale of the Schiller, one of the leading theaters of Chicago, to Daniel Frohman, of New York, was announced Thursday night. A new stock company will be formed to play continuously at the theater, with Nelson Roberts, of the Lyceum Comedy Co., as manager.

The President Returns.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The president arrived in Washington Thursday morning and was at his desk in the white house at his usual time. Miss Rose Cleveland returned with the president.

Editor Childs is Better.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—The bulletin given out by Mr. Childs' physicians Thursday says the patient is stronger and in better condition than at any time since his illness began.

CONDENSED NEWS

Gathered From All Parts of the Country by Telegraph.

Frank McDaniel, while braking on coal train No. 75, C., S. & H. railroad, slipped between the cars at Crossville, O., and received injuries causing his death.

The Beardsley paper mill, at Elkhart, Ind., was partly destroyed by fire Thursday morning. Loss $11,000. The mill was operated by a company of Lyons, Ia.

Treasurer Wm. E. Thompson, of Parsons college, Fairfield, Ia., received a check for $25,000 for that institution as a gift of the late Dr. Thomas A. Skinner, of Chicago.

At Bedford, a suburb of Cleveland, O., a natural gas well has been completed which shows a tremendous pressure. The gas has been ignited and produces a flame 60 feet high.

The Smith civil rights bill passed the Ohio house Thursday morning without a dissenting voice. It increases the penalty for a refusal of restaurant and hotel keepers to entertain and feed colored people.

The Palace hotel, at Sixty-first street and Madison avenue, Chicago, burned early Thursday evening. The hotel has been unoccupied since the World's fair. Loss $60,000. Cause unknown, supposed incendiary.

A petition has been prepared and extensively signed asking congress to pass the bill now pending placing a tax of $25 a year on each shanty-boat or house-boat. The petition has been extensively signed along the Ohio river.

William Farr, of EuClaire, Wis., has brought suit against A. Warner, of Chicago, for $20,000 damages for alleged slander, charging that Warner declared at various times that Farr destroyed a will for the purpose of obtaining a large property.

The race for governor of Kentucky, which comes off in June, 1895, is already on, as Hon. C. M. Clay, of Bourbon, has written to friends here that he will undoubtedly be a candidate. Hon. J. W. Hardin is already announced and at work.

Haskell Home for Orphan Children was dedicated at Battle Creeck, Mich., Thursday. It cost $300,000. Mrs. Caroline Haskell, of Chicago, gave $80,000 toward its erection. It was named Haskell Home in honor of her late husband, Frederick Haskell.

The grand jury returned indictments against Wm. Mitchell, C. M. Grubbs and Mrs. Laura Bent, respectively president, cashier and chief clerk of the new Farmer's bank, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., which closed its doors, July 27, 1893. The indictments charge the parties with receiving deposits after they knew the bank to be insolvent.

Elias Rogers, the largest wholesale coal dealer in Canada, speaking of the removal of the duty on coal by the United States, said: "It will open at once Portland, Boston and other New England markets to Nova Scotian coal. It should also give that coal a very large proportion of the ocean steamship trade at New York and Philadelphia."

Injured By an Explosion.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26.—Will Kappas, of Zanesville, a student at the State university, while experimenting in the chemical laboratory Thursday afternoon, was seriously injured by an explosion of chemicals. His right eye was permanently injured, his face and body badly burned and his clothes torn off.

We've Been Waiting for This Cold Snap!

For some time. In fact, we almost gave it out. We just got through invoicing our stock, and when we got to our OVERCOATS we put them down 40 per cent. under the price, thinking we would have to carry them over into next winter; but you will want a good warm Ulster now. If not an Ulster you will want one of our fine Beaver Poole Overcoats.

Here Are Our Prices for the Next TEN DAYS:

$35	Overcoat,	40	cents	off, $21
28	"	"	"	$16 80
25	"	"	"	$15
20	"	"	"	$12
15	"	"	"	$9

We only quote you prices on our high qualities. If you want an $6, $7 or $8 overcoat it will hardly cost you anything. Goods sold at the above terms will be delivered to you after you pay for them; for too many goods and no money is the cause of this slaughter sale. We will further say that no one in the county with ordinary intelligence will for a moment doubt the correctness of a reduction we say we make. Gentlemen, come early; they won't last long at these prices.

Respectfully,

The Monk!

By MATTHEW G. LEWIS, (MONK LEWIS.)

Mr. Lewis was a member of the British Parliament, and his book became so popular in England a hundred years ago that it gained for him the title of "Monk Lewis."

It is a fine piece of classic composition, and after being out of print for many years it has been republished from the original text.

It is far superior to "Maria Monk" and books of that character.
